

FOLK DANCERS GET READY FOR BALL

Dayton folk dancers Grace Wolff, Ray Gottschall, Hilda Volkman, Jack Hunter and Margie Seer (left to right) get ready for the international ball at the Biltmore hotel Friday night to kick off activities for the United Nations celebrations here. Other highlights of the week include visits by Miss Universe, Hillevi Lombin

of Sweden; Lauren K. Soth, who recently toured Russian farmlands; Clark M. Eichelberger, executive director of the American Association for the United Nations; Brooklyn Dodgers' Manager Smokey Alston, and Marine Capt. Richard McCutchen, who won $64,000 on a television quiz program.--Photo by Hacker.

of Sweden; Lauren K. Soth, who recently toured Russian farmlands; Clark M. Eichelberger, executive director of the American Association for the United Nations; Brooklyn Dodgers' Manager Smokey Alston, and Marine Capt. Richard McCutchen, who won $64,000 on a television quiz program.--Photo by Hacker.

of Sweden; Lauren K. Soth, who recently toured Russian farmlands; Clark M. Eichelberger, executive director of the American Association for the United Nations; Brooklyn Dodgers' Manager Smokey Alston, and Marine Capt. Richard McCutchen, who won $64,000 on a television quiz program.--Photo by Hacker.