INVITE YOU AND YOUR FRIENDS TO A WEEKEND WITH DICK CRUM

MARCH 17 and 18, 1962

LOHREY RECREATION CENTER
2300 S. SMITHVILLE ROAD
DAYTON 20, OHIO

Dear Folk Dancers,

It has been a very long time, almost four years, since Dick Crum was with us for a weekend. At that time he was still located in Pittsburg at Duquesne University with the Tamburitzans as their librarian and choreographer. (This is the student group that will perform at Wilmington College, Wilmington, Ohio, in connection with their International Festival, March 2, 3, and 4. The "Tammies" appear at 1:00 and 8:15 P.M.) At present Dick is at Harvard. This is his third year in the Graduate School and, at the moment, he is pursuing his Doctorate in Slavic Studies and doing exceedingly well! It would take a book to tell all the wonderful things about him, but even then his simple charm, his kindly manner, and his ready wit might still be what we remember most and like the best about him. Dick is just past thirty and yet during the past twelve or more years he has headed the programming of six or seven gigantic Folk Festivals in St. Paul, Minnesota, his original home, and in Pittsburgh. He has been to Yugoslavia on three extended trips during which time he has collected much of the material he uses in his workshops. The last time I checked, it took all my fingers and toes (and I still have ten of each) to count the number of languages he speaks, reads, and writes fluently, and to this has been added Russian, I believe, since he has gone to Harvard. Oh yes, one more thing, he likes to play the recorder, so bring yours if you wish. He is not only a skillful dancer but also a truly excellent teacher. Don't miss DICK CRUM!

The entire weekend for all sessions, notebook, and dinner will be $6.00 per person. Single sessions are as follows:

Saturday 2-5	$1.50	Sunday 2-5	$2.00
Dinner - 6:30	2.00	Notebook	1.00
Party at 8:00	2.00

Saturday registration begins at one o'clock. Sunday request dancing 1-2.

Please send your dinner reservations to Grace Wolff. We must have these by THURSDAY, March 15, ACCOMPANIED by $2.00 for each dinner. Refund can be made only if cancellation is received by this same date.

Dishwashers will receive a 50% scholarship. Contact Grace Wolff now!

At the moment our plans for food and party are not jelled but they shall be soon, so come prepared for a really good time. Lois Niemeier has done our designing and silk screening. Sara Fleischer is heading decorations. Incidentally, she is also our council chairman this year. There is limited room for sleeping bags, but please request this space in advance. May we give a little advance publicity for the Columbus Folk Dancers? They are having Ralph Page there, April 28 and 29. Ask them about it when you see them in Dayton at the Dick Crum Weekend, March 17 and 18. See you then! As always, yours for more fun dancing,
