Dear folkdancer,

As you can tell, this is a form letter. I hope that the correct people will receive this letter. If you are no longer a mover or shaker in your folk dance organization, please pass it on to someone that is. The intent is that the major folk dance organizations in Cincinnati, Columbus, and Dayton receive it to plan for the forthcoming TRI-CITY FESTIVAL.

As in the past, we expect that the Whetstone Folk Dancers, the Columbus Folk Dancers, Hillel Folk Dancers, and the English Folk Dancers in Columbus as well as the University of Cincinnati Folk Dancers, the Cincinnati Folk Dancers, and the Scottish Folk Dancers of Cincinnati will take part in TRI-CITY. The Miami Valley Folk Dancers in Dayton, Ohio are hosting this year's event.

More information will be coming later, but this will suffice for planning purposes. Much as we have tried to arrange and allocate the teaching time, we can come up with no better arrangement than in the past--that is, each city will have one hour of teaching time. All organizations in that city must get together and arrange their own teaching session, fill up one hour of teaching, no more, no less, obtain teachers and bring the music and instructions along. There might be some extra time, so if you need any more, please write to me at the address above.

Currently, the following has been tentatively set:

Date: Sunday, 12 April 1992
Place: Michael Solomon Pavilion, Dayton, Ohio
Times: 1:00 P.M. Registration and requests
1:30 or 2:00 teaching starts
5:30 teaching ends
6:00 dinner to include vegetarian and meat lasagna, salad,
bread, dessert, and coffee, or tea. (catered)
7:30 - 10:30 Evening party
Cost: teaching $3.00, party $3.00, dinner $7.00
special price (purchase all 3) $10.00

Along with this letter, you should receive our first newsletter of 1992. This is to let you know of some of our future plans.

Some time ago, the Columbus groups had an organizational meeting of the leaders of all groups of the three cities during TRI-CITY. I thought this was very productive and useful. Could we do this again this year in between dinner and the evening party?

Please help us and yourself by promoting this event among your members and future members.

More later.
