

Larry Weiner – Larry Weiner is one of this country's foremost experts in traditional dance, music, and customs of the Balkan Peninsula. He has made numerous field trips to the former Yugoslavia, Bulgaria, Italy, Hungary and Greece to record and film folk music and dance as living social traditions. Both a superb teacher and excellent dancer, he has a knack of making seemingly complex dances and rhythms accessible and fun for dancers at all experience levels. As he says "Its not how you do the dance, but how you feel when you do the dance that counts." Larry has taught at camps throughout the United States including both East and West Coast Balkan Music camps, Mendocino Folklore Camp, the "Klez" camp, and numerous weekend folkdance workshops. One of the founders of Buffalo Gap Camp for the Cultural Arts in West Virginia, Larry also plays tupan (traditional big drum found in the Balkans) in several bands, serves as co-director with Margaret Loomis for the Old World Music and Dance Camps, and works a "straight" job in the US EPA's Office of Groundwater and Drinking Water.
