2008 MVDC Honor Roll Dancer

Carolyn Stovall

Carolyn Stovall's childhood ambition to be "the fastest feet in Scioto County" carried her first to the Transylvania University Folk Dancers, and then in 1961 to the Miami Valley Folk Dancers (MVFD). To expand her knowledge of dance, she attended workshops and camps from Maine to Macedonia. By the late 1970s, Carolyn had assumed a leadership role within MVFD, and she has remained active there ever since. That's 46 years with MVFD. The club grew significantly as a direct result of her dedication and hard work.

At MVFD, Carolyn has served in various offices and on an assortment of committees, usually several times each. We are particularly grateful that from 1997 through 2003 she singlehandedly organized and taught MVFD's beginners class, and even collected instructions for all the dances she taught. When Carolyn finally "retired" from that, the MVFD Chair noted that she had possessed all the requisite qualities: reliability, thorough knowledge of the dances, careful preparation, great teaching and organizational skills, and excellent people skills!

In the 1990s, Carolyn became involved with the Miami Valley Dance Council, and served four terms as Secretary. She has taken a special interest in the Michael Solomon Pavilion; when the Pavilion was threatened by proposed improvements to the Community Golf Course, Carolyn alerted area dancers and provided them with historical information on it. She was also a member of MVDC's 1995 Ohio Buckeye Dance Convention Committee (Chair of Folk Dancing), and led folkdance sessions for the 2001 Convention as well.

But Carolyn's leadership has not been limited to MVFD and MVDC. She danced with the Zivio Slavic Dancers for years, performing locally and in Yugoslavia. As part of her continuing involvement with the Dayton International Festival, she spearheaded a drive to save the festival. Perhaps most important of all was her leadership as a Huber Heights elementary-school teacher. For over 10 years, she included recreational dance as part of the physical education curriculum for hundreds of students.

Carolyn's contributions of time and talent to recreational dance in the Dayton area have been significant. Whenever she sees something that needs to be done, she does it! Her enthusiasm for all kinds of dance has been much appreciated, not only by MVFD, but by MVDC members, by her former students, and by the general public whom she always encourages to join in. The Miami Valley Folk Dancers are honored to have Carolyn Stovall as a very-long-time member, proud to name her the club's 2008 Honor Roll Dancer, and even more proud that she has been selected as the 2008 MVDC Honor Roll Dancer!
