Daniela Ivanova is an accomplished, professional folk dance teacher, choreographer and researcher of the South Slavic folk culture.

Born and raised in Sofia, Bulgaria, Daniela began dancing at age 4, learning traditional dances from her grandmother, a native from the Shop region. At age 12 she began touring Europe as a member of Rosna Kitka Children's Folk Dance Ensemble. Daniela later became a full-time teacher in choreography, ethnography and philosophy.

She has traveled repeatedly to France, Netherlands, Belgium, Italy, Austria, Switzerland, Germany, Hungary, Czech Republic, Slovakia, Romania, Moldova, Ukraine, former Yugoslavia, Malta, Singapore, Hong Kong, Malaysia, Turkey, Cyprus, Greece, Israel, and Mongolia. In the U.S. she has taught at major dance camps: Stockton, Mainwoods, Florida Folk Dance Camp; San Antonio Folk Dance Camp, Chicago Spring Festival, Buffalo on the Danube, Balkanalia, and more.

Daniela completed her Ph.D. at the Institute of Art Studies, Bulgarian Academy of Sciences, specializing in Ethnochoreology and Dance anthropology. Her two Masters degrees are from St. Kliment Ohridski Sofia University: Philosophy, with Cultural Anthropology minor, and Bulgarian Philology, with specialization in folklore.
